My career goal is to work with digital products, in particular to be responsible for the development of their visual side.

I started my education from the basics of front-end development. I use the acquired knowledge each day by designing and coding responsive websites.

I am currently intensifying my education in the area of UI. I am also very interested in UX issues.

In my previous work - as a photographer - I developed strong aesthetic and social competence, I gained a lot of experience in the field of customer service.

I'm an enthusiastic learner, highly-motivated and well organized person. I can act independently and as a member of a team.
